Dear Parents,

My wife and I joined our children and grandchildren on a trip to Paris this summer. The City of Light did not disappoint as it literally and figuratively offered us a smorgasbord of delights. The number of kosher restaurants seemed infinite and the historical sites were abundant and fascinating. In the twelve days we were there we walked more miles and ate more bread and cheese than we ordinarily would in half a year.

The trip provided me with a number of insights. The Palace at Versailles is the grandest edifice I have ever seen. Its scale and opulence are beyond description. The Louvre, too, is majestic. These buildings were home to one man – the King of France. “For the Glory of France” is an epitaph inscribed, during the 20th century, on one of the buildings at Versailles. These buildings, however, were not built for the glory of a nation but rather for the hubris of Louis XIV. Although Louis XIV completed his reign, the price for his excesses was paid by his descendants and his nation through upheaval, suffering and death. Although impressive to behold, the obscenity of Louis XIV’s excesses are powerfully driven home by these buildings.

A different thought occurred to me as we walked the perimeter of the Cathedral of Notre Dame. Construction of the cathedral was begun in the 14th century and concluded in the 16th century. It took almost 200 years to build. The people who conceived and worked on this project did not live to see its completion. I marveled at their ability to imagine a project that would benefit generations yet unborn and to be able to sustain the project over centuries.

On a daily basis, I attended services at Agudos Hakehilos, a Parisian synagogue celebrating its 100th anniversary. The shul was founded by Ashkenazi Jews who were deported and then exterminated in Nazi death camps. The current membership is predominantly Sephardic. I have visited the death camps as well as cities and villages in Poland. With the exception of Krakow, I witnessed very little evidence of the vibrant Jewish communities that existed there before the war. Even in Krakow, the surviving synagogues are maintained as museums by the Polish government. Although showing the effects of age and tight budgets, the shul in Paris remains otherwise unchanged from its prewar state. The Aron Hakodesh is as it was 100 years ago, the pews are original, and the brass chandeliers and candelabra that adorn the synagogue are as spectacular as when they were first installed. But what makes this synagogue extraordinary is the palpable presence of those Jews who were murdered during the Holocaust. More than any place where I have been, this shul provided me with a strong sense of connection to the victims of the Holocaust. Their whispered tefilot continue to reverberate throughout the sanctuary. I made it a point to arrive early both morning and evening so I could sit quietly in the empty building to reflect and marvel that the synagogue continues to live.

I recognize that my wife and I are truly blessed to have shared this experience with our children and grandchildren. Together we learned lessons of the danger of excess, lessons of the importance of vision and perseverance and lessons of the eternity of Judaism and the continuity of the Jewish people.

Hillel Day School of Boca Raton Earns Continuing SACS CASI Accreditation

Rabbi Samuel J. Levine, Head of School, recently announced that Hillel Day School of Boca Raton has earned continuing accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Council on Accreditation and School Improvement (SACS CASI), an accreditation division of AdvancED, the parent organization of SACS CASI.

SACS CASI provides nationally recognized accreditation, the purpose of which is continuous school improvement focused on increasing student performance. To earn accreditation, schools must meet SACS CASI's high standards, be evaluated by a team of professionals from outside the school and implement a continuous process of school improvement. Accreditation is granted on a five-year term.

"Accreditation demonstrates to our students, parents and community that we are focused on raising student achievement, providing a safe and enriching learning environment, and maintaining an efficient and effective operation staffed by highly qualified educators," stated Rabbi Levine.

SACS CASI accreditation is recognized across state lines, which not only eases the transfer process as students move from accredited school to accredited school but also assures parents that the school is meeting nationally accepted standards for quality and successful professional practice.

Dr. Mark Elgart, President/CEO of AdvancED, stated, "SACS CASI accreditation is a rigorous process that focuses the entire school on the primary goal of creating lifelong learners. Hillel Day School of Boca Raton is to be commended for engaging in this process and demonstrating a commitment to continuous improvement."

Parents and interested community members can learn more about accreditation at www.advanc-ed.org.

New Zionist Curriculum Sponsored by HDS Parents

An exciting new curriculum has been brought to HDS! Responding to a need expressed by educators around the world, the Lookstein Center at Bar Ilan University created a comprehensive curriculum to aid in teaching about Medinat Yisrael. This innovative curriculum entitled, "Israel Throughout the Year," is a comprehensive program whose goal is informative and pedagogic in nature. Students in grades 1-8 will now be able to learn in a fun and comprehensive way about Eretz Yisrael's history, geography, culture, tradition, democracy, leaders, challenges and more through 16 modular lessons per year. This program deepens the connection that the students will have through engaging discussions, activities and graphics.

Hillel was able to bring this exciting new curriculum to our school through the generosity of Raphael and Meira Gross. This program is dedicated in memory of their beloved grandparents, Haim and Sadie Gross, Rabbi Baruch Meir and Tova Rabinowitz, Meyer and Lillian Shatz, and Dr. Nahum and Deborah Zackai, A"H, all of whom would have taken great pleasure in a curriculum focused on enriching knowledge and cultivating appreciation for Medinat Yisrael and its history.

Hillel Day School Celebrates Silver Anniversary

During this 2013-2014 school year, Hillel Day School will be celebrating its 25th Anniversary with a variety of programs and events. In 1989, several Jewish families were interested in establishing a high quality Jewish day school for their children. They approached the Samuel Scheck Hillel Community Day School in North Miami Beach about opening a branch of their school in Boca Raton. After months of hard work, their efforts paid off, and in September 1989, the Hillel Day School of Boca Raton opened its doors with 42 students.

As the school grew, it became evident that responsibilities for the school needed to be community based. It was decided that the school could most efficiently be pursued as an independent entity, and so Hillel Day School of Boca Raton was born. The school moved to its current home, occupying new facilities on its beautiful 15-acre campus in 1998, now the Milton B. Katz Campus.

Since that time, Hillel Day School of Boca Raton has grown tremendously with the building of a new gymnasium and Middle School building, and the creation of Aunt Jessie's Playground. It currently serves 480 students from age 2 through 8th grade.

Hold the date for our 25th Anniversary Annual Journal Event & Celebration, scheduled for Monday evening, December 16, 2013. We will be celebrating 25 years of academic excellence and paying tribute to our deserving honorees, Dr. David & Sharona Kay, Rabbi Samuel J. Levine, and Mrs. Maia Shaffer. We hope that you all will join us on what promises to be a meaningful and memorable evening.

Music Notes

By: Nikki Lynch, Music Teacher

As we continue to build the music program here at Hillel, I am pleased to announce that we are now current members of the National Association for Music Education (NAfME), the Florida Music Educators Association (FMEA), and the Florida Elementary Music Educators Association (FEMEA). As Hillel's music teacher, I am also networking and coordinating with the Florida Bandmasters Association District 14 in an effort to grow our band program in grades 4 and up. These memberships open up our school to a variety of resources including publications, networking, performance possibilities and professional development opportunities for expanding our curriculum. I am grateful to have been able to attend the FEMEA summer music conference in Ft. Pierce. With a focus on classroom management specific to the music curriculum and teaching strategies for highest student achievement in music, I have come back with many exciting ideas to implement this year.

As per our new curriculum, Kindergarten through 2nd grade will be learning music through singing and the playing of classroom instruments including rhythm band, hand bells and boomwhackers. In 3rd grade the students focus on improving their singing and musical theory skills and begin our instrumental program with recorders. They will be participating in a fun assessment program called "recorder karate" during the second half of the year. Expanding on instruments, in the first half of this year the 4th graders will be learning more complex music using boomwhackers, rhythm band and recorders, as well as how to play basic chords on the ukulele. During the second half they will be forming the beginnings of a wind ensemble and learn to play a school band instrument. This will prepare them for 5th grade music, which is Beginning Wind Band. As a middle school elective, we are also offering a boomwhacker class every other week. It is my hope that as the program grows we will offer even more instrumental opportunities in middle school as well. Thank you to all the faculty, staff and parents for your continued support. I look forward to another great year!

The start of the new academic year was more exciting than ever! With the help of Hashem, our 25th anniversary brought with it record enrollment, which means more students than ever are experiencing an HDS education. The middle school in particular, with its own record numbers, has been further enhanced in line with our mission of constant improvement and striving towards excellence.

A new position was created, Facilitator of Academic Support, to ensure that all students get the personalized attention and support that they need to succeed. Dr. Jordana Carmel, who is able to assist with both Judaic and general studies, has already made a substantial impact upon the middle school.

With some schedule restructuring, more classes and levels have been created, resulting in a positive impact on the student-to-teacher ratio within the classroom. These changes have also allowed for a smoother transition of our 6th graders into middle school by reducing their total number of subject areas by one.

Teachers spend more organized, quality time than ever before engaged in professional development. The critical friends groups, visits to each other's classrooms, personal learning networks and discussions about articles that touch upon the latest trends and research in education, keep us all learning and growing.

Our KAR²E Program (Kindness Always, Respect and Responsibility Everywhere), with its small group discussion format known as KAR²E Circles, continues to develop so that our children are getting the social/emotional and middot/character development education that must be at the heart of a great Jewish day school.

Our Electives Program, now in its third year, has an expanded list of offerings. The new ones for this year include Boomwhackers (music), Fit Rx personal training, Chidon HaTanach, Cool Science, Dreamweaver Website Design, Cake Decorating, Recycled Art and Clay Sculpting.

I can go on and on but I guess I will have to wait for the next edition of the Hillel Herald!

Mazal Tov to this year's 7th and 8th grade National Junior Honor Society students: Max Abramovitz, Sara Deichman, Gabriella Englander, Jeremy Griff, Ayelet Gross, Daniel Gross, Shmuel Gross, Noa Grunhaus, Ty Kay, Talia Kennedy, Tani Loskove, Shoshanah Marcus, Rebecca Rosen, Akiva Stadlan, Jonah Tripp and Rebecca Wirtschafter.

In this article, I'd like to focus on one of our many new initiatives, the expanded EMET badge program. EMET, meaning Excellent Midot Every Time, was created to recognize and promote exceptional middot (positive attributes) in our Lower School. Whereas before we'd give out EMET notes and bracelets, now students can also collect colorful badges. Thanks to the creative design of Ilana Landau, these cool badges were meant to be collected, attached to key rings, and proudly suspended from backpacks, demonstrating that good Midot performance at Hillel will not go unnoticed but will be distinguished as important.

Students will continue to receive EMET notes, but for every five EMET notes a child receives in a particular area, the child will then be awarded one Emet Badge in a particular category. We have chosen four areas that not only exemplify and model what we want from our children at school, but also what we want from our children at home.

These are the 4 areas:

Respect for All

- Getting along with friends
- Respecting the environment, e.g., cleaning up
- Demonstrating good manners toward peers
- Appreciating others' differences, e.g., involving others in group activities
- Recognizing peers and smiling when passing by

Respect for Adults

- Showing respect toward someone older
- Addressing adults in a formal and respectful manner

- Paying attention to parents, teachers and adults, never interrupting them when they are speaking
- Reacting immediately to the requests of parents, teachers and other adults

Torah and Mitzvah Time

- Spending time outside of school with opportunities to learn Torah
- Going to Shul on Shabbat and vacation days, or making sure to daven and make Brachot at home
- Participating in extra learning opportunities and programs

Accepting Responsibility - Sharing a Friend's Burden

- Giving emotional strength to someone sad or lonely, e.g., listening or offering words of advice or encouragement
- Learning to forgive and forget
- Being sensitive to the needs of others, e.g., offering assistance without being asked
- Showing fine character when giving in and letting others go before you, e.g., in line
- Standing up for peers

Feel free to let the school know when your child has done something worthy of one of these categories! As the children earn badges, their names will then be placed on the Midot Wall of Fame, which hangs prominently in the corridor of the first floor and second floor of the main building. I would like to congratulate our first awardees: Respect for All: Yoni Yudewitz (4th grade) Torah & Mitzvah Time: Ahava Bernstein (3rd grade), David Bernstein (1st grade), Jake Davis (4th grade) Tani Englander (4th grade), Jacob Freedman (4th grade), Aiden Harow (5th grade), Yosef Marcus (4th grade), Moshe Moskowitz (K), Ettie Sharp (K) Sruli Sharp (5th grade) and Yoni Yudewitz (4th grade). We look forward to seeing more badges of honor worn around Hillel and the community!

HEALTH WEEK DEBUTS

Health Week, a program geared to Early Childhood and Kindergarten students, developed by Hillel Kindergarten teachers Sheri Siegel and Naomi Aharon, commenced on Monday, October 28. The program implemented health topics in all areas of students' curriculum.

During music class, children learned about healthy habits through song and movement. In science class, students learned about the importance of keeping germs from spreading and participated in experiments. Physical education classes offered fun-filled activities through exercise, relay races and an obstacle course. Hillel parents who are in the health field including, Dr. Dov Pickholtz, an internist, Dr. Tomer Haik, a pediatric dentist, and Mrs. Elana Rackman, a dietician and yoga instructor, spoke to the students. Mrs. Suzie Fisher, a registered dietician, spoke to the students about eating healthy as well as the importance of eating breakfast, and Chef Alan Bergman prepared artistic and healthy fruit snacks for the kick-off of Health Week. Thank you to Winn Dixie for sponsoring healthy snacks throughout the week.

"The purpose of the program is to promote healthy habits for healthy kids. Healthy habits were enhanced through hands-on physical activities, experiments, stories and songs," explained Sheri Siegel, Kindergarten Assistant. Neomi Aharon, Kindergarten Religious Associate, noted, "Health week promotes healthy bodies and healthy minds amongst our early childhood students. After the successful implementation of this program, we anticipate it will grow to include other grades as well."

A Refreshing Summer-End Treat: Annual PTA Ice Cream Social

What better way to start off the new school year than to gather with family, friends and teachers on a Sunday (or should we say sundae?!). On August 18, parents and students attended the Annual PTA Ice Cream Social, excited to reunite with friends, meet teachers and staff and, most importantly, welcome new families to HDS. The PTA thanks Chuck from our neighborhood Carvel store on Glades Road for generously donating the ice cream and toppings. We applaud Kimberly Frohlich and Ilana Rackman for whipping up this exciting event, and thank all of our volunteers.

Annual New Mothers' Brunch

The PTA thanks Liora Adler and Lisa Houben for once again organizing the annual PTA New Mothers' Brunch. Over 30 women gathered at the Adler home on August 25 for a delicious breakfast, mingling with old and new friends, and learning more about the role of the PTA and exciting volunteer opportunities.

BoxTops For Education

Please remember to bring your BoxTops labels to the school office. To be entered into our monthly BoxTops raffle, simply write your name on the back of each BoxTop you submit. You could win a $10 gift card to Aspaclaria Boca Judaica.

Semi-Annual Pre-Holiday Shopping Spree

On the evening of August 28, the Boca Raton Synagogue bustled with excitement as hundreds of shoppers took a break from their busy schedules to attend the HDS PTA's Pre-Holiday Shopping Spree. The semi-annual event raised funds for HDS, while bringing business to our community vendors and providing one-stop shopping for our patrons. From clothing to hats, housewares, jewelry, Judaica, cosmetics, paper goods, toys, children's accessories and more, the event offered something for everyone—often at discounted prices. The PTA commends Orlie Cohen and Rachel Harow for their outstanding work in coordinating and organizing the shopping spree and thanks all of our parent volunteers. We also express our gratitude to Matthew Hocherman and his staff for their help setting up the event.

Right On Target

Thanks also to the families who registered for and use Target® credit cards. With a Target® card, shoppers get 5% off all purchases. Even better, if your card is linked to HDS, the school earns 1% on all purchases (in addition to your 5% back). HDS also receives 1/2% of purchases made elsewhere using a Target® credit card. Please be sure to visit www.target.com/tcoe to designate HDS as your school of choice. Questions? Please contact Lori Landes at seattlelandes@comcast.net.

If you're looking for an easy way to get involved with HDS, consider enlisting in the PTA Troopers—and find the type of volunteer opportunities that are just right for you! Please email sharonakay@mac.com today to join and learn more!

for Shabbat, chagim or any other time, please contact Aliza Pilichowski via e-mail at pillows123@gmail.com.

From Hadassah Smolarcik,
Religious Studies Principal

One of my favorite educational vignettes is about an early childhood teacher who, each Friday, had the students act and dress as "Shabbat Abba and Ima." One Friday, Dovid was chosen to be the Shabbat Abba and as assigned, he came dressed in Shabbat attire ready to tackle his role. He took his place at the head of the Shabbat table and held the Kiddush cup in his hand. He carefully recited the Bracha and as soon as he finished, he sat down and let out a long "krechitz" (Yiddish for sigh). The teacher, worried, asked him if he was okay. Dovid answered that he was fine. "Why then did you let out such a sigh?" asked the teacher. Dovid answered, "That is what my father does each Friday night after making Kiddush."

The above example, humorous as it may be, demonstrates how profound and powerful parent role modeling is on children. Children naturally imitate and emulate the behaviors of the parents. While observing the actions of the parents, children record them in their subconscious minds where they form lasting impressions.

According to the Torah the ideal system of educating our children is, "V'shinantom levanecha" (teach these words thoroughly to your children). In other words the "perfect" educational system is one where the parent teaches the child. In fact, the Talmud records that our current system of education consisting of classes and schools was instituted by Rav Yehoshua ben Gamla nearly 2000 years ago as a necessary measure to insure that children who had no parents or whose parents were not capable of teaching them would also have the opportunity to learn.

Now that we find ourselves in the post-Rav Yehoshua era we should ask ourselves whether the best educational system is to be found in the educational institutions that have state-of-the-art technology, equipment and master teachers or is the ideal system one in which each parent teaches their children?

Religious Studies

I believe that the answer to this question is that today's teacher can teach Torah, can pass on the general rules of Middot Tovot, and serve as role models for the children. But, the task of deeply defining a child's personality and character is and will forever remain the prevue of the parent.

It is my humble suggestion that the school and the parents need to work together to develop the holistic student who will be able to face the academic, spiritual and moral challenges that they will face throughout their lives.

NEW LOWER SCHOOL VEGETABLE GARDEN DEBUTS

A new fruit and vegetable garden has been planted and lower school students will grow and maintain it as a form of service learning. Each grade will take part in planting, weeding, watering, measuring, harvesting and/or selling/donating the produce in our garden. The students started by researching the best fruits and vegetables to grow, making compost from their leftover lunch and snacks and charting the sunlight on campus to find the best place for the garden, which has found its new home between the Loewenstern Cafetorium and gymnasium buildings. The garden will also be used to educate students and the community on the importance of taking care of our environment and "going green."

Batsheva Klein, Lower School Science Teacher, is directing this effort and explained, "We will be using recycled rain water collected in cisterns to irrigate the garden via a drip irrigation system. After completing a soil test, we discovered that the garden would be most fruitful if we used raised beds. We plan to make the raised beds using recycled aluminum as well."

The fruits and vegetables produced in the garden will be used in HDS' Healthy Habits curriculum, and the garden will be used to educate the students on eating healthy and keeping bodies healthy. Some of the produce will be offered as healthy snacks in school, while other produce will be sold in a farmers market at our Science Fair and additionally donated to the local food pantry. Students will apply math skills, science skills and higher order thinking skills in learning how to maintain the garden. They will also have the opportunity to explore and create innovative ideas when implementing pest control methods and, hopefully, garden expansion.

Thank you to the Hillel PTA for making this garden possible through it's $5,000 designated donation. Also thank you to Home Depot for the donation of a portion of materials.

New Parent Orientation

NEW PARENT ORIENTATION WELCOMES NEW FAMILIES

New families to Hillel Day School received a warm welcome at the New Parent Orientation held on August 13. Families were greeted with a welcome bag of HDS regalia.

The format of the evening was an informational session with question and answer time. Rabbi Samuel J. Levine, Head of School, Rabbi Adam Englander, Incoming Head of School/Upper School Principal, Chayim Dimont, Lower School Principal, and Hadassah Smolarcik, Religious Studies Principal, each presented valuable information for the new families.

Sharona Kay, PTA President, introduced parents to all of the wonderful programs the PTA coordinates, and invited them to get involved in the many volunteer opportunities and projects.

Jill Kaminetzky, Assistant to the Lower & Upper School Principals, as well as an HDS parent, greeted the new families in her role as

New Parent Buddy Coordinator, and informed them that they would be set up with a buddy family as well as other resources to help them get acquainted.

This orientation is a wonderful way to make our new families feel welcome, as well as meet other new families at HDS.

SPORTS - Hillel Lions Roar into a New Season

Maia Shaffer, Athletic Director

This year has already been very exciting for our sports program. The year began with some notable wins for our Boys Flag Football and our Girls Volleyball Teams. Although we have had a few challenges throughout the last season as well as many holidays which have impacted some of the team practices, we are poised to come on strong in the next season which began with a tremendous amount of participation and enthusiasm. Our sports clinics are becoming more and more of a foundation to our athletes for various sports they will face in the upcoming seasons. I would like to give special thanks to Coach Zack and Coach Samantha, as well as a very warm welcome to Coach Seydou, who has become very popular among our basketball players. Please join me in supporting our students and coaches in their upcoming games!

Girls Volleyball

By: Coach Samantha Witztum

The Girls 2013 Volleyball Team got off to a great start this season by winning their first two games against Posnack and Somerset Pompano. The girls improved with every game and continued to show passion towards the sport throughout the entire season. We had a great feeling of camaraderie and sportsmanship out on the court.

I am incredibly proud of the girls and how they gave their all and fought until the end in every game! I thoroughly enjoyed working with the girls this season and feel that the players have a sense of achievement. Each member of the team improved their individual skills and I am so proud of each and every one of them. Well done on an amazing volleyball season!

Go, Lions!

Boys Flag Football

By: Coach Zack Rogan

The Boys Football Team had high hopes for the season coming off a close loss in last year's championship game. The boys started out with three wins in the first half of the season and looked to be on the right track. After a closely contested tie before the long holiday, the boys returned to face the two toughest games of the year. After a hard loss to Donna Klein, the boys answered back with an extremely hard fought and well played game against division leader St. Marks. The boys never gave up and fought back after being down early to push the eventual division champs to the end of the game. Unfortunately, the boys came up a little short, losing 33-28. Led by a stellar 8th grade class, the boys finished with a record of 3-2-1, which doesn't convey how well they truly played.

A Message from the (FRD)
Financial Resource Development Department

Welcome back from the FRD Department! A new donor recognition wall of honor was installed in the HDS lobby over the summer. This display recognizes our gracious Annual Campaign donors, as well as designated gifts, our grandparent society donors, and philanthropic and endowment funds earmarked for the Annual Campaign.

In addition, our three major gift societies, the Lamed Vav Society ($36,000+), the Chai Society ($18,000) and the brand new Maimonides Society, chaired by Dr. Benjamin Freedman ($5,000 annually for a minimum of 3 years), are prominently displayed to thank those pillars of our community who have made Hillel Day School and its students a priority with their generous tzedakah.

Gifts to the Annual Campaign include the following: Annual Journal Event, Annual Golf Tournament and Raffle, general donations (including in honor of, in memory of), Koppie Cohn Day of Learning Program, and major gifts (Lamed Vav Society, Chai Society and Maimonides Society). For returning and new parents, a donation toward any of these efforts satisfies your Every Parent Campaign (EPC) responsibility.

Other giving opportunities include the Create a Jewish Legacy campaign, co-chaired by Glen Golish and Leigh Katzman. This campaign is a joint effort with the Jewish Federation's Anne & Norman Jacobson Jewish Community Foundation, created to develop permanent endowment funds, lifetime gifts, bequests, trusts and planned giving to ensure the future of our Jewish community.

We are excited about this year, our 25th Anniversary, and hope that you join us, ensuring HDS' future for the next 25 years and beyond!
